MANURE OF VINES.—We commend the following to all who are interested in the production of grapes:

The following easy method for preparing bones for manure is said to be a recent discovery by Professor Iliendorf, of Russia, and is as follows: Four thousand pounds of bones are taken as the quantity to be dissolved, or rather powdered; we then take four thousand pounds of wood ashes, six hundred pounds 560 gallons of water. A ditch some two feet deep, of such width and length as to hold six thousand pounds of mixture, is dug, and near it a second ditch, some twenty-five per cent. larger and both lined with boards. The lime is then slaked (dry slaked, as it is called, that is with water just sufficient to leave it in the form of a powder, and mixed with wood ashes, and two thousand pounds of bones piled up in layers and covered up with the mixture of lime and ashes in the smaller ditch, 3,600 pounds (450 gallons of water added, and the whole left to itself. From time to time small quantities of water are added, to keep the mass moist. As soon as it is found that the bones are so far decomposed that when pressed between the fingers they are soft and crumbly, the second portion—that is, the other two thousand pounds of bones—is brought into the larger ditch, and covered in layers, with the first mass of lime, ashes and bone dust, and left to decompose. The whole of the water has been used up, we suppose, in the successive wettings of the first mass. Dry ashes, we know by experiment, will absorb its bulk in water. After the whole mass has undergone decomposition it is suffered to dry by removing it from the pit, and lastly, to facilitate its reduction to powder, mixed with four thousand pounds of dry turf of some other dry vegetable earth. The mixture is repeatedly stirred about with a shovel, and may at once be brought upon the fields. Manure thus prepared will contain about twelve per cent. of tribaric phosphate of lime (that is carbon, oxygen and phosphorus united with lime,) two per cent. of alkaline salts, and six per cent. of nitrogenous matter.

Liebig, in generally recommending this new fertilizer, thinks an addition of gypsum an improvement for fruits.

If this method of dissolving bones performs all it promises, and we see no reason why it should not, it must be of much advantage to agriculturists. There can be but little question of the value of bone as a manure, if it be but properly applied, and the more thoroughly it is dissolved, as is the case with all manures, the more efficiently it acts.

Free caustic potassa, as is well known, acts very readily in dissolving bone. By the above process the carbonate of potassa in the ashes is by the action of caustic lime, as in making lye for soap, converted into free caustic potassa, and thus the conditions are fulfilled and the decomposition of the bones effected.

Different kinds of wood produce ashes of varying strength, and hence perhaps one of the sources of failure in some of the experiments which have been tried to dissolve bones after somewhat similar methods. It will be well to bear this in mind in connection with Professor Iliendorf's discovery.

EXODES.—There is a Rabbinical legend that the buried Hebrews, of all ages, are slowly and surely moving under ground, toward Palestine, there to be ready at the great day to repossess the land. They had better make haste, for we read the following in a New England newspaper:

A Maine colony proposes to settle in Palestine. A letter from one of the colonists says the first vessel will sail from Jonesport for Jaffa, by the way of Malta, about the middle of next July, loaded with lumber and other material, also carrying furniture and household goods, agricultural implements, and about twenty-five or thirty families, numbering in all about one hundred and twenty persons, more or less. Their new home is near Jaffa the ancient Joppa.

Certain it is, that if these superficial Yankee adventurers make a lodgment in their new settlements, the subterranean Israelites will have no chance whatever. Instead of finding, on putting their heads above ground, a few wretched Turks, or Arabs, or Wahhabees, with a feeble missionary scattered about, they will encounter on the vine clad slopes of Jaffa, and amid the cedars of Lebanon, a congregation of hard-headed, hard hearted, hard-featured Yankees—squatters on the Holy Land, whom no power, when once planted, can ever dislodge. Abigail rediviva will encounter Mrs. Stowe, or Mrs. Anthony; and her husband Nabal, who, the Good Book tells us, was very druken, will find General Neal Dow: Ahab or Ahaz will be confronted with a Ben. Butler, and Naboth's vineyard will be in possession of a new trespasser from down East. The Israelites, we repeat, will have no chance.—Exchange.

AN ANCIENT RIVER BED.—The theory put forth some twelve years since of a mighty river, varying from nine to thirty miles in width, once having coursed its way from north to south, the whole extent of California, and finally discharging itself into the Gulf of California, is by the delving of the hardy miner beneath what he formerly termed the "bed-rock," about being demonstrated as truth. The accumulations of "drift," and other formations, resting on this secondary "bed-rock," rise in many localities thousands of feet in hight, while upon this upper surface are trees of monstrous size, that must have consumed centuries of years in their growth. Beneath this upper bed-rock is found the channel of a river bed filled with a "cement gravel," rich in gold, that yields, even with the wasteful process by which it is worked, from six to one hundred dollars per ton. The profitable working of this subterranean deposit will, in most instances, require the aid of machinery for bringing this hidden deposit to the surface, but its unknown width will almost invariably insure success in every shaft. Notwithstanding the croakers' cry that "the placers are exhausted," every day is furnishing proof that they are just in their infancy.—Silver Mountain Bulletin.

Salt Lake City, November 5, 1866.

The Fenian Cause.

The last hope of poor suffering Ireland seems to have died out. For long years have her people, in poverty and want, groaned under the tyranny and exactions of the English oppressor. Her lands owned by aliens to her soil and interests, her sons without political rights, perhaps the evils of absenteeism (as it is termed) have caused more suffering and distress than even the denial of political manhood to her people. The heroic efforts made by her patriots from time to time in the past, extorting the admiration of the world and the sympathy of nations, were still unsuccessful. No heroism could break the bonds, and no sacrifices secure independence. There can be little doubt that Ireland, crushed and mangled, has been for more than two centuries more down-trodden than even Poland or Hungary, and her inhabitants the victims of a deeper woe than the enslaved serfs of the Carolinas.

Her proximity to England, the readiness with which a large armed force could be thrown upon her shores, the complete system of espionage ever brought in active requisition by the oppressor, together with the lack of arms, equipments and munitions of war, have been the bar to even a slight hope that Ireland could regain her long lost independence. The Fenian organization, apparently springing as it did into being, armed and equipped, seemed to offer at least a possible, if not a probable means of escape from long years of tyranny and untold burthens. The organization claimed to have five hundred thousand members enrolled in the United States, and not less than two hundred thousand well armed and drilled men in Ireland. While all the world were wondering when and where the blow would first fall, James Stephens, the so-called Chief Organizer, suddenly appeared in this country with brave words on his lips and bright promises of an early dawn from the long, dark night.

The rash, worse than foolish dissensions between the Roberts and O'Mahoney factions in New York did much to exhaust the patience of sympathizing friends, who became disgusted with the petty bickerings over the spoils and the unmanly contest for the offices. The Canada fiasco nearly put the climax of ridicule and contempt on the whole Fenian movement. But the bold and patriotic utterances of Stephens did much to reassure, if not the outside world, at least the hearts of the ever hopeful and never subjugated Irishmen. When he told his followers, as he did at Jones' Wood, last summer, that everything was prepared, that two hundred regiments in Ireland, whose secret trainings during five years had made them soldiers, were ready to grapple with the oppressors; that before the end of the year 1866 they would be in the field, and "I at their head," the friends of Ireland looked for a speedy, a glorious, it not a successful contest.

But all this seems to be at an end, and Ireland must look elsewhere for a leader, or bide her time. Whether there was much or little substance in Stephens' flaming speeches, England has had a terrible "scare on," and was preparing herself for a death struggle in Ireland, when, lo! the whole thing turns out to be a fizzle. The telegraph tells us that Stephens, instead of being on his way to join his brave comrades in arms on Ireland's soil, has been skulking in New York. That he has abandoned the contest at the final moment, and abdicates as a leader of the Revolution he has been so long trying to inaugurate.

"Colonel Riley says that he does not regard Stephens as a traitor, but as a coward." So says the dispatch. It matters little which it may be. The movement is a disastrous, miserable, ridiculous failure. We see but one ray of hope in all this gloom for Ireland. It is just possible that this last dispatch is a ruse to throw England off her guard, and that Stephens is in fact on Irish soil. We confess, however, that we have very little faith that such is the fact, or of its effectiveness if true. England is too old a bird to be caught with such chaff. We can only say, Poor Ireland, she has suffered almost as much in the house of her friends as in the camp of her enemies!

ALL SAFE.—We are pleased to announce that the party of nine miners, who were supposed to have been murdered by the Indians in their road from Pahranagat to the Colorado, have returned in safety. They were attacked, but retreated without the loss of a man. Mr. Rosenbaum, who arrived in the Southern Stage last evening from Pahranagat, is our informant. Mr. R. confirms the good report, recently received, of the plentiful yield of the precious metal in that section of the country.

CELEBRATION.—On the 1st of January the colored citizens of Stockton, California, celebrated the anniversy of President Lincoln's proclamation of emancipation, by a salute, an oration, the reading of the proclamation and an ode to the American flag. Winding up the ceremonies with a supper and a dance in the evening.

OUR BAIL.—T. R. Anthony, clerk of Wells, Fargo & Co., accused as a defaulter, has been admitted to bail in the sum of fifteen thousand dollars. The Independent says that the investigation shows its previous statement of the defalcation, to be several thousand dollars in excess of the correct amount.

EMIGRATION.—Nearly every German Prince has at least $100,000 invested in American securities, and the ex-King of Hanover, who has been notified that he cannot return to his throne, has half a million [illegible]

[SPECIAL TO THE "DAILY UNION VEDETTE."]

New Haven, January 8.

The Connecticut Democratic Convention adopted resolutions setting forth that Congress had violated the Constitution, had struck a fatal blow at the financial and commercial interests of the country, and in excluding the Southern States had also violated the Constitution. A National Convention is recommended to be held in New York, on the 4th of March next, to discuss the great questions of the day, and protest against the revolutionary acts of the majority in Congress, and announce to conservative Union men their determination to resist by every Constitutional power the disorganization and destruction of States. They thank the President for his repeated exercise of Executive power in behalf of the Constitution, and pledge him a continuance of their support. James Brooks, of New York, made a speech of an hour's length, which charged Congress with endeavoring to remove the President and change the complexion of the Supreme Court. He held the negro as not entitled to and not to be entrusted with the governing power. Similar addresses were made by Seymour and Eaton. They claimed that Congress was not strong enough to attempt impeachment, and charged Congress with attempting to subvert the Government in order to secure to itself all National power.

Chicago, January 9.

The New Hampshire Republicans yesterday nominated General Walter Harriman for Governor.

The Kentucky Legislature has refused to ratify the Constitutional Amendment by a vote in the Senate, of 7 yeas, 24 nays, and in the House, ayes 26, nays 62.

The Missouri House yesterday ratified the Amendment; yeas 85, nays 34.

The New Jersey Legislature organized yesterday. Benjamin Buckley, of Pasaic, President of the Senate; G. Wirt Curtis, of Camden, Speaker of the House; both Republicans.

The Kansas Legislature met yesterday and appointed Col. Plumb Speaker of the House. Senate deferred organization one day, it is said by advice, to raise and settle the question under the law of Congress concerning the election of Senators.

Topeka is crowded with aspirants to Senatorial honors, and their friends.

The Wisconsin Legislature organized today and appointed Amons Cameron, of La Crosse, Speaker of the House.

Governor Crapo, of Michigan, has been very ill for the past two weeks, and a report was received this morning that he was dying.

General Butler has sued Brick Pomeroy, of the La Crosse Democrat, for libel, claiming damages of $100,000.

Washington, January 9.

The Senate passed the Nebraska bill, 24 to 15. The Colorado bill was then taken up.

The President sent to the House a partial list of rebels pardoned, saying there would not be time to make the list complete during the present session.

House—Kasson introduced a resolution to restore the jurisdiction of the Indian Bureau to the War Department. Referred.

The resolution was agreed to, requesting the Secretary of the Interior to inform the House if any modification was necessary in the third article of the treaty with Chocktaws and Cheyennes, June 3, 1866, and whether the 8,000 negroes in the country of these Indians can have their rights, as citizens, confirmed.

Allen reported a bill making an appropriation to purchase the post-office in New York.

Cullone, of Illinois, introduced a resolution instructing Committee on Ways and Means to inquire into the expediency of amending the revenue laws, and whether incomes under $1,000 shall be exempt from tax and all over $1,000 taxed five per cent. Agreed to.

Ashley was before the Judiciary Committee to-day in regard to charges contained in his impeachment resolution. The Committee have decided to proceed with the investigation in regular order, and each member sworn to secrecy. The first thing which will probably be inquired into, will be the conduct of the President in using his influence with Governors of rebelsStates to defeat the Constitutional Amendment.

Washington, January 9.

Senate—Sumner presented a claim of the New England Emigrant Aid Society for $250,000 damages of property by a mob at Leavenworth, Kansas Territory.

Morrill, from Committee on District of Columbia, reported adversely to the bill annulling the United States District and Territories discriminating against persons of color.

Toronto, January 9.

Orders for the commutation of the sentence of Fenian prisoners, including Lynch and McMahon, were received by the authorities this morning. The prisoners leave to-night by a special train, under a strong guard, for Kingston to serve twenty years confinement. The trial of the balance of the Fenians commences to-morrow.

New York, January 9.

The World says, regarding the impeachment of the President, that, "contrary to former impressions, we are inclined to think that the Radicals are in dead earnest, that the President will be impeached and put on trial. Whether he will be convicted is a point on which there are not sufficient grounds for our opinion till the temper of the Senate is more fully disclosed."

The Times says, about the impeachment question: Let us hope it is at rest for the session. The proposition which was to accomplish wonders, has been presented and disposed of. It produced no great excitement, hardly a flurry. Its reference to the Judiciary Committee strips it of nearly all its danger. Partisanship and passion are not to be permitted to participate to throw the Government into confusion. The President is not to be removed on ex parte allegations, or for acts of which every predecessor, from Jackson downward, has been equally guilty.

The Herald reasons: As there is no probability of charges of high crimes and misdemeanors against President Johnson sufficient to justify his removal being established against him, what advantages can accrue to Congress or the Republican party from prosecution? We apprehend that, without any compensating good results, the consequences of this proceeding, if pushed to trial before the Senate, will be mischievous, if not disastrous to Congress, the Republican party, the Treasury, and the financial interests of the country, from the violent clashing and confusion of parties, factions and sections, that must inevitably attend the prosecution of this impeachment or to attempt to suspend the Executive in his functions with his arraignment as a prisoner.

Additional Senate:

The Nebraska bill was being taken up.

Mr. Johnson spoke against imposing universal suffrage.

Washington, January 9.

Mr. Wade presented a bill annulling all the laws of Congress on Territories making a distinction in the exercise of elective franchise, or other civil or political rights on account of color. Pending the consideration of which the Senate adjourned.

House—Mr. Alley, from Post-office Committee, reported a resolution directing the Postmaster General to adjust and settle the claim of the ocean steamship line running between New York and San Francisco by way of [illegible] the allowance not to exceed $10,000.

Richmond, January 9.

The Legislature to-day rejected the Constitutional Amendment. The Senate voted unanimously against it. Only one member in the House voted for it.

By cable:

London, January 9.

Rumors are again in circulation of impending changes in the British Cabinet.

Paris, January 9.

It is said that the Council of State determined to oppose the bill for the reorganization of the French army.

New York, January 10.

The Herald's New Orleans special says General Castleman and Maximilian have a secret understanding looking favorable towards the restoration of Juarez to the Presidency by the middle of next month.

The revenue cutter Hugh McCulloch is under orders to leave for Havana on Friday, to await stated orders.

It is arranged to have all the colored troops out of Louisiana.

Judge Abel delivered an important charge to the Grand Jury, which causes comment in political circles. He ably reviews the late riots and the cause which led to them, and quotes law to show that the Convention of 1861 was an illegal assembly.

Chicago, January 10.

The following is an analysis of the votes in the Senate yesterday on the Nebraska and Colorado bills, and the various amendments thereto. On Edmund's amendmen of the Nebraska bill, viz: That this act shall go into effect with the fundamental and perpetual condition that in the said State of Nebraska there shall be no abridgement or denial of the exercise of elective franchise, or of any other right to any person by reason of race or color, except Indians not taxed.

Yeas—Anthony, Cattell, Chandler, Conness, Cragin, Cresswell, Edmunds, Fessenden, Fogg, Fowler, Lane, Morrill, Poland, Ramsey, Ross, Sherman, Stewart, Sumner, Van Winkle and Wade—20.

Nays—Buckalew, Cowan, Dixon, Doolittle, Foster, Grimes, Hendricks, Howard, Howe, Johnson, Morgan, Nesmith, Norton, Patterson, Rindle, Saulsbury, Willey and Williams—18.

On the passage of the Nebraska bill, with the above amendment:

Yeas—Anthony, Cattell, Chandler, Cragin, Conness, Cresswell, Edmunds, Fogg, Fowler, Henderson, Howard, Kirkwood, Lane, Morrill, Poland, Ramsey, Ross, Sherman, Stewart, Sumner, Van Winkle, Wade, Willey and Williams—24.

Nays—Buckalew, Cowan, Dixon, Doolittle, Foster, Grimes, Hendricks, Howe, Johnson, Morgan, Nesmith, Norton, Patterson, Riddle and Saulsbury—15.

The Colorado bill being taken up Edmunds' amendment was added thereto by a vote of 21 to 18; the bill then passed—24 to 12.

Of the absentees yesterday, eight were counted upon to override the expected veto. It will be a close shave, however.

Chicago, January 10.

The Republicans of the Missouri Legislature nominated C. D. Drake for Senator.

The Democrats of the Pennsylvania Legislature nominated Edgar Cowan for Senator.

A letter writer in the Gazette, from Prescott, under date of Dec. 10th, says:

The Governor is a man of energy and capacity, and will do all in his power for the protection of our people. He has his faults, and may be said to have many opponents. The truth is, he has more self-esteem and vanity in his composition than was ever before contained in a skin of his length and breadth. Take these out of him, and he would be universally popular. He is politically liberal, and has many strong friends belonging to the Democratic as well as the Republican ranks. The late move made with the Miner newspaper is a good one for the Governor personally, he having been generally known as the controller of it. How the Republican party here may relish the idea of being treated to a weekly dose of Democratic chowder will be seen in the future. All may be "lovely and the goose hang high," as the Miner says, but in my view much depends upon the price of "old rye."

The following items are from the Gazette of the 20th ult.:

A. F. Waldemar is, we learn, engaged in laying out Aubrey City.

The steamers Esmeralda and Mohave are still up river. The latter is daily expected down.

M. B. Duffield, Esq., late U. S. Marshal, has gone East.

Six horses were recently stolen from Major Coffin's ranch, near Woolsey's.

Wm. H. Tonge, of Tucson, has been appointed Probate Judge of Pima county, vice Aldrich, resigned.

In the late attack upon the mail carrier and escort, numbering seven persons, at Fort Rock, a large number of Indians were engaged. Three white men were wounded, and several Indians killed. Eight head of horses and mules were killed by the Indians, and six head of cattle driven off.

Or Yavapai County Indian Scalpers, is a company lately formed in Prescott, under the command of Tom Hodges. This party was fitted out by our citizens at an expense of several thousand dollars, leaving a subscription paper open, with ample funds to be paid for Indian scalps on their return, ninety days hence. The company, well equipped and mounted, left town last Wednesday, and judging from the well-known character of the men, some service will be done. The brutal murder of poor, kind-hearted Leihy and others may be avenged.

The Sterling mine, five miles from town, is now being worked successfully, under the management of Messrs. Flower and Johnson, from Yuma county. The last clean-up at the mill realized over $100 to the ton, and reports from reliable sources say the mine is daily improving. Rumor also asserts the fact that there are several mines of the same character in the neighborhood of the Sterling.

Mr. R. F. Platt, lately of Williams Fork, is erecting a grist mill near Fort Whipple, in company with William Rankin.

A number of California Volunteers, returning from New Mexico, have passed through Prescott on their way home.

The Borger mill is again running, and is reported as doing excellently.

Leroy Jay, Linton and Graham, were the names of the parties murdered by the Indians near Big Bug.

The Superintendent of the Sterling Mill writes that operations have been very successful. Ninety-two ounces of gold were taken from fifteen tons of rock.

A CAUTION TO THE DESPERATE.—The following is a copy of the most recent effusion of the Vigilance Committee of this place, and to those interested it will well repay perusal:

"Read and reflect.—In view of the fact that crime has run riot to such an alarming extent in the Territory of Montana, (particularly east of the Missouri river,) during the past six months, and that murders and high handed outrages have been of such frequent occurrence as to excite the just indignation of all good citizens, it is believed that it is now time that the good work should be re-commenced. Therefore, this is to notify all whom it may concern, that crime must and will be suppressed; and, to that end, all offenders will be summarily dealt with, and punished as of old. By order of the Vigilance Committee."—Montana Post, Jan. 31.

INFORMATION IS WANTED.—Susan Rasdell wants to know the whereabouts of John Rasdell (commonly called "Jack.") When last heard of, about a year since, he was at Fort Leavenworth. Susan's address is Salem post-office, Richardson county, Nebraska.

BRIGHAM YOUNG ON A HIGH HORSE.—The warefare between the Mormons and the Gentiles of Utah has assumed a threatening aspect, and the Government will doubtless feel called upon to take some decisive action in relation to affairs in that Territory. The Church leaders are more defiant than ever, and openly proclaim a determination to forcibly resist any law of Congress interfering with polygamy or their claim to the public domain of Utah. Brigham's last movement against the enemies of the Church is an order to the Mormons not to trade with the Gentile merchants in their midst. This order was issued two or three weeks since, and has of course created a lively sensation among the Gentile traders of the Territory. The avowed purpose of the Prophet being to "starve the ungodly from Canaan," the merchants published a card proposing to dispose of all of their property to the Mormons at reduced prices and leave the Territory forever. A reply to this proposal has just been published over the signature of Brigham Young. He refuses to accept the terms of the proscribed merchants, and expresses a determination to carry on the war against them to the bitter end.

The VEDETTE is a thorn in the side of the Prophet, and his proscription of the Gentile merchants is doubtless due to their support of that journal. Should the Mormons persevere in the resolution not to patronize those whom their leaders denounce as the enemies of the Church, the Gentile traders in Salt Lake will lose heavily. But there is no remedy for it. The people dare not disobey the orders of Brigham Young, and of course no law can be enacted to protect the Gentiles against such an arbitrary use of his authority; but the Church leaders have never acted with less discretion than in this matter. Several bills for the better government of Utah are now before Congress, and they will be promptly acted upon. One of them is for the abolition of polygamy, and the other to compel the Mormons to purchase from the Government the lands now occupied by them. Action in relation to the affairs in Utah will no longer be delayed.—Virginia Enterprise.

LIGHTNING.—The Grass Valley Union gives the following amusing incident of the fright to some ladies of that place during a recent severe storm, accompanied by lightning:

One lady was in the front parlor, engaged in writing a letter, when a sharp streak of lightning flashed into the apartment. She immediately dropped her pen and rushed into the dining room, where, meeting a lady friend, she exclaimed, "Oh, B——! bless yourself. We are all going to be killed." Another lady was busily employed in sewing, and having a "lady's companion," containing scissors, needle-case, bodkins, etc., standing on a table beside her. A flash of lightning reminded her that steel had attractions for the electric fluid, and forgetting in the terror of the moment, that it had been a Christmas present, she seized and threw her "companion" into the kitchen, and then proceeded to gather up the fire-shovel, tongs, etc., and putting these out of the way, hid herself under a table. Four or five young ladies had gathered at the house of a friend, for the purpose of spending the evening. They were all congregated in the setting-room, when the lightning commenced playing about the windows. With one accord they jumped up and began divesting themselves of their steel-spring hoops; for the first time in their lives endeavoring to prevent themselves from being objects of attraction.

We clip the following from the Reese River Reveille:

San Francisco, January 5.

At a few minutes past twelve o'clock, noon, yesterday, General Chas. H. S. Williams, ex-State Senator, and a prominent member of the California and Nevada bar since 1853, was in some manner shot through the head with a derringer, at his office. He was found lying on the floor, with a pistol beside him. His hat was burnt and torn open by the charge, the ball taking effect near the top of his head, a little back of the line of the ears. It passed downward deep into the brain.

He retained his consciousness unimpaired, and conversed with his friends until after 3 o'clock P. M., just before his death. He told his friends that it was accidental. The pistol had been kept in a drawer, and it has been suggested that he may have discharged it while stooping or kneeling. The more common conclusion is that it was a suicide, occasioned by temporary insanity, brought about by chronic liver disease affecting the brain, to which fits of insanity he has been subject.

Local and Miscellaneous.

TO ADVERTISERS.—The VEDETTE is the pioneer daily newspaper of Utah. Its extensive circulation in every mining camp and city of Montana and Idaho, to which it gives the telegraphic despatches a whole week ahead of the Pacific papers,) makes it the most advantageous medium for advertising in these four Central Territories.

Post-Office Matters.

We have for some time been much disposed to find fault with somebody, who we thought neglected their duties in this office, not that we are pre-disposed to anything of the kind, but we have of late been much inconvenienced by the non-receipt of our exchanges in their regular order, and also the forwarding of our paper to subscribers, and when we meet with merchants who show us exchanges of several days later date than we have received, we begin to feel ugly and are disposed to complain. With the above inconvenience to ourselves, we have every day a complaint from some one of our subscribers and patrons, who represent that there must be a dereliction of duty on the part of some one. A few are disposed to interpret the cause to intentional neglect of duty of some of the employees in the office, and are constantly calling on us to lay the facts before the public. We have refrained for a long time, until the fact became a matter that affected the regular routine of our business, when we made up our minds to inquire into the matter, for our own satisfaction, as well as that of the readers of the VEDETTE. Fully armed with the intent to see where the fault lay, we hesitated on a general onslaught against postmaster, deputies, clerks, or employees of every kind, and waited yesterday upon Mr. Adam Stein, the gentlemanly and obliging deputy of the postal department of Salt Lake City. After making known our complaint, Mr. Stein stated that we were not alone in the matter, and with his usual urbanity, was obliging enough to give us a most full and satisfactory explanation of the real cause. We were permitted to peruse a very voluminous amount of his correspondence with the Postal Department at Washington, and we feel convinced that there the error lies. The parsimonious character of the controlling power of the Post-office arrangements in this city calls loudly for redress on the part of Postmaster General, Randall. The allowance for clerks is barely sufficient to pay the board of persons competent to perform the responsible duties of a post-office clerk, and the postmaster is compelled to hire incompetent persons—incompetent from their lack of years, as well as experience. The limited amount allowed for rent renders it impossible to procure a building suitable for the necessary work of a distributing office.

With the kind permission of the obliging Deputy in looking over his accounts, we were enabled to ascertain the fact that the excess of the actual expenditures of the office, over the allowance by Government, far exceed the salary received by him, and is necessarily an expense personally to him. After a careful examination of his accounts, copies of which have been sent to Washington, we feel satisfied that a reformation is absolutely needed. It is time that it should be known in Washington that expenses of every kind in Salt Lake City, board, clothes, fuel, rent, etc., is far greater than in the Eastern States; and in order that parties, competent to perform faithfully the duties incumbent on the employees of the Government, should be engaged, they should be paid at least sufficient to defray their expense of living.

We regret that the want of space in our columns prevents the publication of the many letters forwarded by Mr. Stein to the Post-office Department on this subject.

We learn that Postmaster Stein is anxious to relinquish his position as soon as Government pleases to appoint his successor; but until more liberal views are entertained by the Postmaster General, the merchants and others of this city must submit to the various inconveniences which ever attend this parsimonious action on the part of Government officials.

As an evidence of the clear and lucid manner in which this matter has been represented to the authorities at Washington, we publish the following as one of the many complaints made of the inadequate allowance for the maintenance of the postal requirements of this city. We have devoted considerable space to this subject, but deem it a duty we owe to all concerned:

POST OFFICE, SALT LAKE CITY, December 19th, 1866.

JOHN B. L. SKINNER, Esq.,
First Asst. P. M. General.

Dear Sir: I have just received from the Auditor of the Treasury for the P. O. Department, a tabular statement showing amount suspended in adjustment of my account current for quarter ending September 30th, 1866, being in excess of quarterly allowance $555.50.

This being a virtual disallowance of expenses to that amount, actually paid by me during that quarter for the proper discharge of the Post-Office business, and my salary as Postmaster, leaving all personal expenses, such as boarding, clothing, etc., out of sight, being inadequate to cover the same, it becomes a very urgent and vital question whether I shall continue to serve the public and the Government at so great a pecuniary sacrifice.

I had indulged the hope that the representations made to you in my letters of July 14th and October 15th, substantiated as the latter was by the vouchers accompanying the account current, and referring to such responsible and creditable authorities as the late Postal Agent, Albert G. Lawrence, Hon. W. H. Hooper, Governor Durkee, and many other prominent and reliable citizens of this place, would induce such action on your part as would spare me the mortification of a repudiation of vouchers amounting to $5.50 more than my salary, and encourage me to persevere in my earnest and devoted efforts to conduct the Post Office in this city in a manner creditable to the Department and satisfactory to the public.

INSECURITY OF LIFE.—We have frequently had our attention called to the insecurity of the lives of those who occupy the [slight frames which have been erected and rented to families, who run the risk of such accidents as the one that occurred on Wednesday evening, an account of which will be found in our columns of to-day. We have, for some time past, anticipated a similar occurrence to our sanctum, and when a storm is brewing we are compelled to write with "fear and trembling." Some of our friends have had some anxiety on our account, from "human foes," but we stand only in fear of the elements. We hope our landlord will come to our rescue, and by relieving us of fear, we may be enabled to write under the influence of a calm and placid mind.

CARLOS, the auctioneer, is always on hand to sell or purchase second-hand furniture. M

A large variety of ladies' boots and shoes just received at the Big Boot Store. 1t

FATAL ACCIDENT.—Between the hours of 8 and 9 o'clock on Wednesday evening an accident occurred in the Eighth Ward, which resulted in the death of one person and the injury of several others. The following are the circumstances which were related to us by a resident of the Ward, who visited the scene immediately after the occurrence: A party of friends were assembled in the house of a Mr. Johnson, amusing themselves in the parlor, when they heard a crash, which was immediately followed with the falling of the roof of the building. One of the party, a young man about 16 or 17 years of age, named William Knight, was instantly killed, and several others of the party were severely bruised, though none of them fatally injured.
